We pay our respects to Elders past, present and emerging, and acknowledge Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples' continuing connection – both physical and spiritual – to land, sea and sky.

About us

COORDINARE, as the South Eastern NSW Primary Health Network, is dedicated to fostering healthier communities.

We focus our efforts on those who face the biggest inequities. To do this, we collaborate with the community, general practices and other stakeholders to design solutions that make it easier for people to get the health care they need.

We will also use our knowledge and commissioning expertise to attract new funding partners to expand our impact.

Our purpose

To improve the health of communities in South Eastern NSW.

Our priorities

Our three objectives and key priorities are:

1. Accessible care – by improving access to services such as mental health, alcohol and other drugs, chronic conditions, after hours and urgent care- especially for priority groups.
2. Systemised care – by strengthening linkages between primary care and the broader health system. We support general practice and commission coordination and navigation services that guide individuals through their health care journey.
3. An activated community – by fostering health across the lifespan, addressing the social determinants of health, increasing prevention activities, and improving community resilience and social connectedness.

As a growing, innovative, and resilient organisation, we achieve our priorities through our strengths in:

- Consumer engagement
- Professional capacity
- Financial resilience
- Communications and influence
- Research and evidence
- Data and IT capability

Our values

- We build trusted and meaningful relationships
- We respect and include diverse voices
- We act with integrity
- We embrace change with purpose

Our processes

COORDINARE commissions services from our stakeholders, rather than providing services directly. Commissioning involves starting with understanding our communities' needs, identifying commissioning opportunities and then gauging the impact of our initiatives on the community.

COORDINARE uses population health data, and input from our two GP-led Clinical Councils, the Community Advisory Committees, the Aboriginal Health Councils, general practices, and through our strategic alliances with the Local Health Districts, to identify needs, set clear local priorities, and implement government initiatives.

Purpose

The Allied Health program leads COORDINARE in developing and implementing relevant strategies and targeted stakeholder engagement plans to support multi-disciplinary team care in primary health. The team is responsible for working with stakeholders in innovative ways to facilitate and integrate multi-disciplinary team arrangements to improve the patients' journey through the health system and improve health outcomes. The team is responsible for the provision of practice support to primary and allied health practitioners, system redesign and other health system improvement projects, pathway optimisation, coordination of care, stakeholder alliances and communications.

The Multi-Disciplinary Teams Commissioning Coordinator is highly skilled in relationship management and are responsible for developing meaningful relationships and engaging with key stakeholders including, in particular, with allied health practitioners, General Practitioners and Primary Care Nurses and their teams in South East NSW. In doing so, this role is the relationship manager and change agent supporting the implementation of strategies and initiatives aimed at supporting and/or influencing stakeholders to make quality and system improvements for better health outcomes in our region.

Whilst it is important that the role operate as part of the Allied Health Program team and implement identified strategies consistently, it is expected that they will be working autonomously for the majority of their time. The ability to exercise independent judgment, identify and progress local priorities and demonstrate performance through the achievement of identified outcomes is critical. This approach needs to be balanced with seeking out opportunities to collaborate, ensuring open lines of communication are maintained and issues are escalated as required.

Key accountabilities

- As part of a team, develop, implement, and evaluate strategies to encourage, achieve and maintain multi-disciplinary team engagement. This may include face to face practice visits, web/video conferencing and regular meetings of local networks.
- Support and facilitate local networks for allied health and commissioned providers who are engaged in multi-disciplinary team care including relevant communities of practice.
- Develop, implement, and evaluate strategies associated with targeted stakeholder engagement plans including for the following key groups Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander controlled services, aged care service sector, mental health sector and allied health professionals.
- Facilitate primary health care service improvement by: providing stakeholders with access to the latest evidence based information; supporting review and analysis of patient data; supporting the implementation of new initiatives such as eHealth; facilitating access to continuing professional development and networking; and, working with practitioners, Local Health Districts and other providers to redesign services.
- Contribute to the coordinated communications strategies to improve engagement with key stakeholders.
- Work closely with the Primary Care Development team to understand the local primary health sector and assist with provider engagement.
- Utilise project management expertise to work collaboratively with key stakeholders to undertake service improvement projects including those with a focus on continuous improvement, redesign projects, or research.
- Contribute to the development, implementation and maintenance of the Stakeholder Relationship Management (SRM) system as a tool to support, track and report on activities. Ensure all activities are kept up to date on the SRM.

Key relationships

- Internal: Wellbeing and Priority Populations team, Primary Care Development team, Community and Systems Collaboration team, Planning and Insights team, Digital Health team, Communications team.
- External: Allied Health Practitioners and other multi-disciplinary team care providers including general practitioners, registered nurses and other primary care staff.

Key challenges

- Implementing a new way of 'working with' (rather than 'doing for') the primary and allied health care workforce to meet agreed priority health outcomes.
- Ensuring engagement and coordination strategies are effective, meaningful, and focused on agreed priority health outcomes.
- Translating technological advances and evidence based practice to local service improvements that improve health outcomes.

Key outcomes

- Health system improvement and redesign projects are delivering outcomes in line with project plan.
- High levels of stakeholder engagement in planning and development of health system improvements.
- Multi-disciplinary team networks established and functioning effectively.
- Stakeholder engagement targets achieved or exceeded.
- Professional development program implemented.
- SRM maintained and utilised as required.
- Strategies to engage other key stakeholder groups implemented and evaluated as required.
